

I understand that I have been granted access to a very powerful tool, one that can change lives and the world, forever, and I will treat it with the utmost respect.

T E C H N O L O G Y C O N T R A C T

I understand that words I say and images I share will live on the internet forever, regardless of how "temporary" or anonymous they may seem, and I will act with wisdom and discretion when sharing anything online.

I understand that people are not always who they seem to be online, and so I will not share any personally identifiable information like my address, age, school, or birthday, that can allow them to access me or act as me.

I understand that too much screen time can negatively impact my health and well-being, and I will make an effort to place IRL interaction above digital interaction with both humans and the natural world.

I understand that my parents will strive to treat me with an appropriate level of privacy and respect with regards to this device as long as I conduct myself accordingly and keep an open and honest dialogue with them about issues that arise.

I understand that if I break these rules I could lose access to this device, which is a privilege, and not a right.
